BOWDOIN COLLEGE

BOWDOIN COLLEGE was incorporated by the General Court of Massachusetts, upon the joint petition of the Association of Ministers and the Court of Sessions of Cumberland County. The act of incorporation was signed by Governor Samuel Adams, June 24, 1794.

The College was named in honor of James Bowdoin, a grandson of the Huguenot refugee, Pierre Baudouin, who fled from the religious persecution that followed the revocation of the Edict of Nantes, and, in 1687, made a home for himself on the shores of Casco Bay, in what is now the city Portland. In the next generation the family name was anglicized, and the grandson, James Bowdoin, was born in Boston, which had become the family home, and was graduated from Harvard College in 1745.

He was a staunch and influential supporter of the movement for American independence, a member for many years of the Council, or senate, of the colonial legislature, a delegate to the first Continental Congress in Philadelphia, president of the Provincial Council, and a close personal friend of Washington. He was also the president of the convention which framed the Constitution of Massachusetts, and was subsequently, for two terms Governor of the State. In addition to his civil honors he received honorary academic degrees from Harvard, from the University of Pennsylvania, and from the University of Edinburgh; he was a member of various foreign societies, the first president of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and a valued friend and correspondent of Benjamin Franklin.

The earliest patron of the College was the Honorable James Bowdoin, son of the Governor. He was graduated from Harvard College in 1771, and subsequently studied at the University of Oxford. In President Jefferson's administration he was appointed successively Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of Spain, and Associate Minister at the Court of France. During his residence abroad he accumulated a valuable library, a collection of paintings and drawings by old and modern masters, a cabinet of minerals and fossils, together with models of crystallography, all of which he bequeathed to the College. During his lifetime he gave land, money, and apparatus to the College, and at his death made it by will, his residuary legatee.

Circumstances delayed the opening of the College for several years after its incorporation; but in 1802, a substantial brick building having been erected for its accommodation, the first president was inaugurated, and the work of instruction was begun. The government of the College is vested in two concurrent Boards, the Trustees and the Overseers, and since 1870 one-half the vacancies occurring in the Board of Overseers have been filled from nominations by the body of the alumni.

The Medical School dates from 1820, when it was established by the first legislature of the new State of Maine, and made a department of Bowdoin College.

The academical, medical, and honorary graduates number together six thousand four hundred and eighty-eight; and nearly half as many more have studied here without taking degrees. The living graduates number about two thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

ADMISSION TO THE COLLEGE

All students who entered Bowdoin College in September, 1918, were admitted in accordance with the rules and regulations set forth on pages 43-69 of the Annual Catalogue for 1917-1918. No changes in these rules and regulations have been made and they will remain in force for all students admitted in the fall of 1919 as candidates for degrees.

Details of the requirements for admission will be sent on request to all who do not have a copy of the Annual Catalogue for 1917-1918.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

In the current issue of the Annual Catalogue only the courses that are given during the academic year 1918-1919 are printed, in order that both paper and labor may be saved and in order that the war-time programme of the College may be recorded by itself. As this programme is so different from the normal peace programme all persons consulting the Catalogue for purposes beyond the close of the war are referred to the edition of 1917-1918.

Note.—Since the following Courses of Instruction were put in type the 'Students' Army Training Corps has been demobilized and the College has resumed, so far as possible, its peace programme. Many courses not announced in the following pages will be given during the Second and Third Terms and reference is hereby made to a pamphlet containing a list of these courses and other information.

COURSES IN THE MEDICAL SCHOOL

By vote of the Faculty, the work of the first year of the Medical School is accepted in place of the required courses of the Senior year in the College.

Students intending to avail themselves of this privilege are required to register in the College at the opening of the college year. They will then be excused from further attendance until the opening of the Medical School.

MEDICAL PREPARATORY COURSE

A course, not leading to a degree, has been established for students intending to study medicine.

The entrance requirements are the same as for the academic courses.

Students entering this course are required to make affirmation of their purpose to pursue their medical studies after completing the course, with a statement from parent or guardian to that effect, and with the understanding that change to regular standing in the College will be made only by special vote of the Faculty.

Students in this course are required to take: First Year: Chemistry 1, 2; English 1, 2, 4; Hygiene; Zoölogy 1, 2; Physics 1, 2. Second Year: Chemistry 3, 4; Zoölogy 3, 4; French or German; and one elective.

Lectures

ANNIE TALBOT COLE LECTURESHIP

This lectureship was founded by Mrs. Calista Mayhew, of South Orange, N. J., in memory of her niece, Mrs. Samuel Valentine Cole, of Norton, Mass. The incumbent, appointed for one year, gives a series of lectures before the College. These lectures are open to the public. According to the provision of the donor, this lectureship is to "aim at contributing to the ennoblement and enrichment of life by standing for the idea that life is a glad opportunity. It shall, therefore, exhibit and endeavor to make attractive the highest ideals of character and conduct, and also, in so far as possible, foster an appreciation of the beautiful as revealed through nature, poetry, music, and the fine arts."

BENJAMIN APTHORP GOULD FULLER LECTURESHIP

This lectureship founded in 1911 in memory of Benjamin Apthorp Gould Fuller, A.M., of the Class of 1839, provides for instruction in Social Hygiene.

Resources and Equipment

RESOURCES

The interest bearing funds of Bowdoin College, including $190,000.00 belonging to the Medical School, at the close of each fiscal year, for the last six years were as follows:

Mar. 31 1913, $2,210,503.96	Mar. 31, 1916, $2,460,084.47
Mar. 31, 1914, 2,263,717.80	Mar. 31, 1917, 2,473,451.63
Mar. 31, 1915, 2,264,034.14	Mar. 30, 1918, 2,612,279.16

THE COLLEGE BUILDINGS

There are sixteen college buildings: Massachusetts Hall, the administrative building; Maine Hall, Winthrop Hall, Appleton Hall, and William DeWitt Hyde Hall, the dormitories; the Chapel; Seth Adams Hall and Memorial Hall, recitation buildings; the Sargent Gymnasium, now used in part for the Bowdoin Union and in part for the central heating and lighting plant; the Observatory; the Walker Art Building; the Mary Frances Searles Science Building; Hubbard Hall, the library building; the Hubbard Grand-Stand and athletic quarters; the Gymnasium and General Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building; and the Dudley Coe Memorial Infirmary.

These buildings and their equipment are described and illustrated in a pamphlet which will be sent gratis upon application to the Dean.

Administration of the College

TERMS AND VACATIONS

The Academic Year is divided into three terms, of equal length. Commencement Day is the fourth Monday in June. The Summer Vacation of thirteen weeks follows Commencement Day. There are two periods of vacation during the year; the first, a recess of eight days including Christmas; the second, the Easter recess of eight days near the first of April. The following are also observed as holidays: Thanksgiving Day, Washington's Birthday, Patriots' Day, Memorial Day, and Ivy Day.

REGISTRATION

All students are required to register on the first day of each Term, except that Freshmen on entering college are required to register on Wednesday afternoon preceding the opening of the academic year. A fee of two dollars is charged for registration after the opening day.

COLLEGE BILLS

Bills, containing college charges, are mailed to the parent or guardian of each student at the close of each Term; these bills become payable at once.

No student will be advanced in class standing until all the dues of the previous year have been paid; and no degrees will be conferred upon students who have not paid all their dues to the College.

No student will be dismissed from college on request unless he shall have paid all his college bills, including that of the current Term.

During the time that term bills which are overdue remain unpaid a student receives no credit for college work.

ATTENDANCE AT EXERCISES

Attendance is required of all students at recitations and lectures continuously throughout the Term, and at the daily college prayers which are held on each week day at 8.20 A.M., and on Sundays at 5 P.M.

EXAMINATIONS

The regular examinations of the College are held at the close of each Term.

An unexcused absence from an examination entails a mark of zero. In case of illness or other unavoidable cause of absence from examination, the Dean has power to suspend the action of this rule.

RANK

The rank of a student in each course is computed on a scale of ten (10), but is preserved on the college records in the letters A, B, C, D, and E. A signifies a rank from 9 to 10; B, a rank from 8 to 9; C, a rank from 7 to 8; D, a rank from 6 to 7; E, a rank lower than 6, and a condition.

REPORTS OF STANDING

A report of the rank of each student is sent to his parent or guardian at the close of each Term. The report contains a statement of the standing of the student in each of his courses, together with the number of unexcused absences from chapel.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES

In order to be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science, a candidate must have passed thirty-four courses,—a course is a subject pursued for one Semester,—together with English g, h, Hygiene, and four courses in Physical Training. He must, moreover, have attained a grade of C or higher in half his courses.

In accordance with a vote of the Boards passed in 1916, upon recommendation of the Faculty, the degree of Master of Arts, in course, is no longer conferred.

DEGREES WITH DISTINCTION

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science with Distinction is awarded in three grades:

Cum Laude. A candidate is recommended for a degree cum laude who has obtained a grade of A or B in seven-eighths of his courses.

Magna cum Laude. A candidate is recommended for a degree magna cum laude who has obtained a grade of A in three-fourths, and B in another eighth of his courses.

Summa cum Laude. A candidate is recommended for a degree summa cum laude who has obtained a grade of A in seven-eighths of his courses. A candidate for a degree summa cum laude must have been in residence at Bowdoin College at least three years.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES

Prayers are held each morning except Sunday in the college Chapel, and a vesper service is held on Sunday. All students are required to be present. From time to time during the year prominent clergymen of various denominations come to Brunswick to preach at the College.

BOWDOIN UNION

The Bowdoin Union is designed as a general gathering place for all students of the College. There are three rooms comfortably equipped for class meetings, rehearsals, and general recreation. The large central lounging room is specially adorned by a fourteen-foot fireplace, given in memory of Richard A. Lee, John F. Morrison, and James B. Lamb, of the Class of 1908, all of whom died while students in college. One of the remaining rooms is used as a reading room, and is well supplied with daily newspapers and magazines. All three rooms can be thrown into one to accommodate large assemblies.

During the current year the Union is used as the headquarters of the Army Y. M. C. A.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE

A fund of $1,000, given by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Godfrey, of Bangor, in memory of their son, Henry Prentiss Godfrey, is devoted to providing medical attendance for students who may be sick while in college.

In case of illness students should immediately call upon or summon the college physician, Dr. Whittier, whose office is in the Gymnasium.

DUDLEY COE MEMORIAL INFIRMARY

The Dudley Coe Memorial Infirmary, completed in 1917, and endowed by the donor with a sum ample for all running expenses including resident attendants, is a gift of Dr. Thomas Upham Coe, of the Class of 1857, in memory of his son. It is fifty-eight feet in length and thirty-eight feet in width, and has three stories and a basement. It is entirely fireproof.

The basement contains a dining room, kitchen, laundry, furnace room, and janitor's room.

The first floor contains the reception hall, physician's office, operating room, sterilizing room, nurse-matron's rooms, two wards of two beds each, and bath rooms.

The second floor is designed especially for the care of contagious diseases and contains two hospital units; each unit comprising two wards of two beds each, duty room, diet kitchen, and bath room. These units are so arranged that they can be isolated. There are also a physician's room and a sterilizing room on this floor.

The third floor contains rooms for the nurses connected with the infectious wards, rooms for maids, a solarium, and a storeroom.

Scholarships

More than $13,000 is distributed annually in the form of scholarships and prizes in aid of meritorious students of slender means.

Applications for scholarships must be made upon blank forms furnished by the Treasurer of the College. They must be made out anew each year; signed by both the student and his parent or guardian; and deposited in the Treasurer's office before November 15th.

Graduate Scholarships

Charles Carroll Everett Scholarship. Certain real estate in Brunswick, bequeathed by Miss Mildred Everett, to found a scholarship in memory of her father, Charles Carroll Everett, D.D., of the Class of 1850, the net income of which is given to that member of the graduating class whom the President and Trustees shall deem the best qualified to take a post-graduate course in either this or some other country. (1903)

Henry W. Longfellow Graduate Scholarship. A fund of $10,000, given by the daughters of Henry W. Longfellow, of the class of 1825,—Miss Alice M. Longfellow, Mrs. Edith L. Dana, and Mrs. Anne L. Thorp—for a graduate scholarship "that would enable a student, after graduation, to pursue graduate work in some other college, or abroad, if considered desirable; the work to be done in English, or general literature, and the field to be as large as possible—Belles Lettres in a wide sense. The student to be selected should be some one not merely proficient in some specialty, or with high marks, but with real ability in the subject, and capable of profiting by the advanced work, and of developing in the best way." (1907)

Prizes

David Sewall Premium. A prize amounting to Ten Dollars is awarded annually to a member of the Freshman class for excellence in English Composition. (1795)

Class of 1868 Prize. A prize of Forty-five Dollars, contributed by the Class of 1868, is given annually to the author of the best written and spoken oration in the Senior class. (1868)

Smyth Mathematical Prize. A fund of $6,500, the gift of Henry J. Furber, of the Class of 1861, named by him in honor of Professor William Smyth. From the present income of the fund $300 is given to that student in each Sophomore class who obtains the highest rank in the mathematical studies of the first two years. The rank is determined mainly by the daily recitations; but the Faculty may at its discretion order a special examination, the result of which will be combined with the recitation rank. The successful candidate receives $100 at the time the award is made. The remaining $200 is paid to him in instalments at the close of each term during Junior and Senior years. If a vacancy occurs during those years, the next in rank secures the benefit of the prize for the remainder of the time. (1876)

Sewall Greek Prize. A prize of Twenty-five Dollars, given by Professor Jotham Bradbury Sewall, D.D., of the Class of 1848, formerly Professor of Greek in the College, is awarded to the member of the Sophomore class who sustains the best examination in Greek. (1879)

Sewall Latin Prize. A prize of Twenty-five Dollars, also given by Professor Sewall, is awarded to the member of the Sophomore class who sustains the best examination in Latin. (1879)

Goodwin Commencement Prize. A prize of Fifty Dollars, given by Rev. Dr. Daniel Raynes Goodwin, of the Class of 1832, is awarded each year to the author of the best Commencement Part. (1882)

Pray English Prize. A prize of Forty-five Dollars, given by Dr. Thomas J. W. Pray, of the Class of 1844, is awarded each year to the best scholar in English Literature and original English Composition. (1889)

Goodwin French Prize. A prize of Twenty-five Dollars, given by Rev. Daniel Raynes Goodwin, D.D., is awarded annually to the best scholar in French. (1890)

Noyes Political Economy Prize. This prize, consisting of the annual income of $1,000, was established by Crosby Stuart Noyes, A.M., and is awarded to the best scholar in Political Economy. (1897)

Brown Composition Prizes. Two prizes, one of Thirty Dollars and one of Twenty Dollars, established by Philip G. Brown, of the Class of 1877, in memory of Philip Henry Brown, of the Class of 1851, are offered to the Senior class for excellence in Extemporaneous English Composition. (1901)

Class of 1875 Prize in American History. This prize, consisting of the annual income of three thousand dollars, was established by William J. Curtis, LL.D., of the Class of 1875, and is awarded to the student who writes the best essay and passes the best examination on some assigned subject in American History. (1901)

Bradbury Debating Prizes. Prizes amounting to Sixty Dollars, given by Hon. James Ware Bradbury, LL.D., of the Class of 1825, are awarded each year for excellence in debating. (1901)

Hawthorne Prize. A prize of Forty Dollars, given by Mrs. George C. Riggs, Litt.D., (Kate Douglas Wiggin), of New York, is awarded each year to the author of the best short story. The competition is open to members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. (1903)

Prizes

Alexander Prize Fund. This fund was established by Hon. DeAlva S. Alexander, LL.D., of the Class of 1870, to furnish two prizes of Twenty Dollars and Ten Dollars for excellence in select declamation. Competition is open to Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors. (1905)

Philo Sherman Bennett Prize Fund. This fund was established by Hon. William J. Bryan from trust funds of the estate of the late Philo Sherman Bennett, of New Haven, Connecticut, the proceeds to be used for a prize for the best essay discussing the principles of free government. Competition is open to Juniors and Seniors. (1905)

Almon Goodwin Prize Fund. This fund of $1,000 was established by Mrs. Maud Wilder Goodwin, in memory of her husband, Almon Goodwin, of the Class of 1862. The annual income is awarded to a Phi Beta Kappa man to be chosen by vote of the Trustees of the College at the end of the recipient's Junior year. (1906)

Hiland Lockwood Fairbanks Prize Fund. This fund of $2,000 was established by Captain Henry N. Fairbanks, in memory of his son, Hiland Lockwood Fairbanks, of the Class of 1895. One-half of the annual income is awarded for excellence in Debating and Advanced Public Speaking (English 5, 6); one-fourth is awarded as two prizes for excellence in declamation (English 4) during the second Semester; and the remaining fourth is left at the disposal of the English Department for the promotion of interest in public speaking. (1909)

Col. William Henry Owen Premium. A sum of $500 given by Frederick Wooster Owen, M.D., in memory of his brother Col. William Henry Owen, A.M., of the Class of 1851, the income of which, in the form of a twenty dollar gold piece, to be awarded at Commencement "to some graduating student recognized by his fellows as a humble, earnest, and active Christian." (1916)

Physical Training

The Gymnasium and General Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building together form one of the largest and best adapted equipments for physical training in the country.

The Gymnasium has a frontage of 80 feet and a depth of 140 feet. On the first floor are the lockers, dressing rooms, managers' and instructor's rooms, and rooms for boxing, fencing, and hand-ball. On the second floor is the main exercising room 112 feet by 76 feet, a smaller exercising room, a trophy room, and offices.

The building is equipped with the most approved apparatus, is heated and lighted by modern methods, and is supplied with a ventilating system able to change the air throughout the building every twenty minutes.

The General Thomas Worcester Hyde Athletic Building is connected with the Gymnasium. It has an earth floor 160 feet by 120 feet, and a one-twelfth mile running track ten feet wide. In this building are set off spaces 120 feet by 40 feet for track athletics and 120 feet by 120 feet for a full sized baseball diamond with space to over-run the bases by nearly fifteen feet.

A straight path through the pine grove in the rear of the campus leads from the gymnasium a short distance to the Whittier Athletic Field. This field, named in honor of Dr. Frank Nathaniel Whittier, the present director of the gymnasium, who was largely instrumental in the acquisition and preparation of it for athletic purposes, is about five acres in extent, and is well adapted in all respects for baseball, football, and track athletics.

The Library

The Library contains about 118,000 volumes and several thousand unbound pamphlets. It includes the private library of Hon. James Bowdoin, received after his death in 1811; the library of the Bowdoin Medical School, established in 1820; and the extensive collections of the Peucinian and Athenæan Societies, added in 1880.

Special collections worthy of note are the Longfellow collection, containing the largest amount of Longfellow material to be found in any one place; the Huguenot collection; the German Dialect collection; the Abbott collection; and the Maine collection,—each in its line being probably the largest in the country.

The Library is strong in sets of periodicals collected during the past century, and about two hundred titles are currently received by subscription. The printed catalogue cards of the Library of Congress are received as issued, and this bibliographical collection of increasing value and serviceableness may be consulted by any investigator. Though no formal instruction in bibliography is given, the librarian and his assistants are always ready to lend personal aid to inquirers.

During term time, the Library is open week-days from 8.30 A.M. to 5.30 P.M., and from 6.45 to 9.45 P.M., and Sundays from 2.00 to 4.50 P.M. In vacation it is also open daily, with the exception of Sundays and holidays. Students are allowed to borrow three books at a time, and to retain them, if needed, four weeks.

Annual accessions, which average two thousand five hundred volumes, are made to the Library by means of an appropriation of the Boards for the purpose, and from a part of the proceeds of the following library funds.

BOWDOIN MEDICAL SCHOOL

NOTE

The Annual Catalogue of the Medical School, issued in July, is not reprinted here this year in order that both paper and labor may be saved for war work.

The names of the Medical Faculty and students are printed in their usual places in the first part of this Catalogue. For other information reference is made to the Annual Catalogue of the Medical School issued in July, 1918.
